

Hans Sviggum

Hans Sviggum graduated from residency in anesthesiology at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, MN. After finishing a regional anesthesia fellowship at Mayo, he completed an obstetric anesthesia fellowship at Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston, MA, with a large focus on the perioperative care of parturients with complex medical problems. Currently he is the director of education for obstetric anesthesia at Mayo Clinic Rochester, with a particular interest in outcomes assessment and quality improvement.